Three years after the introduction of the European Citizens’ Initiative (ECI), this volume presents new research findings in an analysis of the opportunities as well as the constraints of this entirely novel instrument of participatory democracy at the level of the European Union.

About the editors:
Maximilian Conrad is Associate Professor of European Politics at the University of Iceland.
Annette Knaut is a Post-Doc Fellow at the University of Augsburg as well as Visiting Lecturer at the Karlsruhe Institute of Technology.
Katrin Böttger is Deputy Director of the Institut für Europäische Politik, Berlin.

The Institut für Europäische Politik (IEP) is a strategic partner of the European Commission, which supports its activities. For the content of its publications only the IEP is responsible.
The series „Europäische Schriften“ is edited by the

Institut für Europäische Politik, Berlin
Maximilian Conrad | Annette Knaut | Katrin Böttger [eds.]

Bridging the Gap?
Opportunities and Constraints of the European Citizens’ Initiative

Nomos
Table of Contents

Preface .......................................................................................................................... 7

Introduction: The ECI at Three – More Constraints than Opportunities?
Maximilian Conrad and Annette Knaut ........................................................................... 10

The ECI – An Overview of Opportunities and Constraints
Katrin Böttger and Julian Plotka .................................................................................... 16

Rethinking the Imaginary of the Public Sphere: Transnational Discursive Spaces and the ECI
Annette Knaut .................................................................................................................. 47

The ECI’s Contribution to the Emergence of a European Public Sphere
Maximilian Conrad ........................................................................................................... 64

Just Sweets for the People? The ECI as a Participatory Tool Towards Pluralistic Democracy in the EU
Jeannette Behringer ......................................................................................................... 81

The ECI as a Hybrid Participatory Genre
Marie Dufrasne ............................................................................................................... 95

Maximilian Conrad and Freyja Steingrimsdottir ............................................................. 112

ECIs in Social Media: Transnational Discursive Spaces in the Making?
Yannick Polchow ............................................................................................................. 128
Table of Contents

What is a successful ECI?
Luis Bouza García and Justin Greenwood 149

From Consensus to Majoritarian EU-level Democracy? The ECI as an Example of Constitutional Change
Julian Plottka 169

Heavy Stones in the Road: The ECI in Practice
Carsten Berg and Pawel Głogowski 199

Bridging the Gap? Concluding Remarks on Various Contributions of the ECI
Maximilian Conrad and Annette Knaut 219

Notes on Contributors 223