The past decade has shown great changes in the life of minorities in South-East Europe and in Central Europe. The influence of international norms was determining in developing new forms of minority representation in the region. The book offers an overview of these institutions departing from the idea of "effective participation" of minorities in public life.
Schriftenreihe der Europäischen Akademie Bozen
Bereich „Minderheiten und Autonomien“
Herausgegeben von Joseph Marko und Francesco Palermo
Band 32
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Balázs Vizi/Norbert Tóth/Edgár Dobos (eds.)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Beyond International Conditionality</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Local Variations of Minority Representation in Central and South-Eastern Europe</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Inhalt

Effective participation of minorities in public affairs and public life – European norms and praxis evaluated in light of the Lund Recommendations

Markku Suksi

European integration and minority rights conditionality policy

Balázs Vizi

The rights of national minorities in Croatia: Beyond European conditionality?

Maria Dicosola

Recognition, representation and reproach: New institutional arrangements in the Hungarian multiculturalist model

András Pap

Minority representation in Montenegro: Defying Balkan standards

Ivan Vuković and Filip Milačić

Fearing endless demands and learning to negotiate the change: Minority representation in the Republic of Macedonia

Stevo Pendarovski, Ivan Dodovski and Marina Andeva

Ethnopolitical dilemmas in Bosnia and Herzegovina: local and international perspectives

Zarije Sezović

The Effective Participation of Minority Communities in the Local and Central Government of Kosovo

Adrian Zeqiri
Inhalt

A tool for an effective participation in the decision-making process?
The case of the national councils of national minorities in Serbia
Norbert Tóth

Conclusions: local variations of minority representation in Southeastern Europe
Edgár Dobos, Norbert Tóth and Balázs Vizi
Contributors