

The background is a painting of a classical monument. It features a circular structure with a dome, supported by several columns. Inside the structure, a white marble statue of a man in a long coat is seated. On top of the dome is a golden winged figure. In the foreground on the right, there is a large, dark bronze statue of a man's head and shoulders, looking downwards. The scene is set against a dark, atmospheric background with some foliage and flowers in the lower left.
