Acknowledgements

I would like to express my sincere thanks to all the people and institutions that have enabled me to conduct this research and write this work. It was only possible thanks to their support.

First of all, I would like in particular to thank Prof. Dr. Aram Ziai for his guidance and supervision. I also thank Prof. Dr. Julius Kiiza for his advice.

I am grateful to the University of Kassel for supporting my dissertation with a scholarship and to Makerere University for the affiliation.

I thank the following institutions in Uganda for their support: the Department of Political Science and Public Administration of Makerere University; Makerere University Library; the Research Ethics Committee at the School of Social Sciences of Makerere University (MAKSSREC); the Uganda National Council of Science and Technology (UNCST); the Office of the Prime Minister; the library of the Parliament of Uganda; the Uganda Bureau of Statistics; the National Records Centre and Archives; Jinja District Archives; Jinja Municipality; Jinja District Administration; Kamuli District Administration; Buyende District Administration; the Obwa Kyabazinga Bwa Busoga; the team of Prime Solutions Ltd. (Kampala).

I am particularly indebted to all my study respondents for sacrificing their time and sharing their knowledge, ideas, and experiences with me. I am also very grateful to the numerous gatekeepers who put us in touch.

The people I owe thanks to in Uganda are too numerous to name all of them. I would like to express my sincere thanks to everybody who supported me during my stay in Uganda. Nevertheless, there are some who have to be highlighted:

Many thanks to Nkonoka Hellen for accompanying me through the largest part of the research process and to Kaiso Moses for supporting us. Thank you to Nkonoka Victoria for teaching me Lusoga.

Very special thanks go to Waiswa David.

Many thanks to Mitchell J. Lincoln, Christopher Joseph, and Franziska Satzinger for sharing the workload of proofreading. Thanks Ewald Dietrich for your constant support.

I am particularly indebted to my family for their limitless support, encouragement, and understanding. I would like to say a special thank you to my mother.

Acknowledgements

Finally, many, many thanks to my husband Dominique for going through this demanding process with me, enduring all difficulties and providing encouragement at all times.
